

What are you doing tomorrow?

"David Plouffe, BarackObama.com" <info@barackobama.com> to rogercraver@gmail.com

10:39am

Friend --

In your neighborhood and in thousands of communities across the country, America is calling on you to join the service.

Tomorrow, January 19th, our nation will come together in a shared spirit of community and we will all participate.

Monday is not only the eve of an inauguration that brings all of us so much hope, it is a day to recognize the power of one man to bring about change by serving his country.

Help kick off an ongoing commitment to serve our communities by taking part in the service.

Sign up to attend or host an event in your community and help rebuild America.

The grassroots movement you helped build was always about more than an election. It was about rebuilding Washington and our communities.

Barack is calling on us to help rebuild our country. He knows what can happen when we all work together.

Take the first step this Monday, January 19th, by joining a service event near you.

<http://www.USAservice.org/content/home>

Thanks,

David

David Plouffe
Campaign Manager
Obama for America